

Required for AST&L Certification

In addition to the following course requirements, a student must join AST&L as a student member for $25 (membership application attached) and apply for the certification (application form also attached). The application identifies requirements to show proof of graduation that must accompany the application. There is also a $175 fee for the certification. Example groups of courses that qualify for certification are listed on page 4.

Through a generous donation of a Franklin Board member, the H.H. Franklin Center will reimburse students for $175 certification fee. See Gary LaPoint or Scott Webster to request reimbursement.
